HALAL CERTIFICATE

Through Halal certification, it is ensured that acceptable food and consumable products are produced for the Muslim consumer. This includes the 1.5 billion Muslims and other millions of people in the world who prefer halal food.

Organizational Assurance towards quality and customer focus

In today's world, with cross country trade, immigration and social intertwinement, there is an ever growing need for producers to demonstrate their compliance to production of foods and cosmetics suitable for consumption by Muslim populations.

The Halal certificate is a document that guarantees that products and services aimed at these Muslim populations, meet the requirements of Islamic law and therefore are suitable for consumption.

Halal certification is a process which ensures the features and quality of the products according to the rules established by the Islamic Council that allow the use of the Halal mark. It is mainly applied to meat products and other food products such as milk, canned food and additives. Specifically, for meat products Halal certifies that the animals were slaughtered in a single cut, thoroughly bled, and their meat have not been in contact with animals slaughtered otherwise and, especially, with pork.

Through our audits we ensure that:

- Raw material, processing aid ingredients, processing, sanitation chemicals and packaging meet the Islamic dietary requirements, primarily that no alcohol or pork products are used.
- Flavouring ingredients and solvents must be from halal sources (no ethyl alcohol, for example).
- Meat products (non-pork) have been slaughtered under Islamic zabiha guidelines.
- All audits are compliant with SMIIC (The Standards and Metrology Institute for Islamic Countries) guidelines.
